

STH-Anlagenbau is a globally operating company designing, developing, manufacturing and supplying recycling equipment, car-depollution equipment and hydraulic equipment worldwide. Our products are innovative, high quality and highly effective under the most diverse circumstances. STH-Anlagenbau also created the first mobile car-depollution systems in the world.

Since 1990, STH has manufactured recycling equipment for specialised industries around the world.

Safety is the most important thing when working with drainage systems and our products ensure this 100%.

Whether you choose one of the mobile stations or the stationary systems you can trust STH to get the job done in a perfect way!

STH-Anlagenbau stands for 20 years of experience, constant research and development for the best solutions, high-quality products and service.

STH-Anlagenbau mobile recycling equipment H10/ H12 for the drainage of ELV-Vehicles is the leading technology worldwide

. Go and see for yourself!

Our name represents quality, functionality and exceeding efficiency and we would like to solicit your interest in our products.

If you have any questions or need more information please do not hesitate to contact us any time.